To whom it may concern:

I am aware of Julie Loveson's abilities by her presence in my Jazz Composition and Advanced Improvisation classes at the University of Miami.

That Julie was among the top 10% of the students attending my class was evident with the quality, creativity and timeliness of her efforts. She often went far beyond what was required or expected of the students.

Julie is an exceptional composer and arranger with an extensive working knowledge of computer-based composition and arranging,

Julie's comprehensive professional and academic history reveals her abilities toward accomplishment and perseverance as well as a diversity of creative efforts.

I can without reservation recommend Julie Loveson as a composer, educator and scholar – she would be a welcome addition to any university or conservatory faculty.
